Important Information for Cornell Transfer Applicants

We are pleased that you are considering applying to Cornell University. Our admissions committees review application materials thoughtfully and thoroughly. We look forward to receiving your application and getting to know you.

The Cornell transfer application consists of:

- the Common Application or the Universal College Application for transfers (includes the Academic Report (CA) or Professor Recommendation (UCA) and the College Report)
- an $80 application fee or fee waiver
- the Cornell University Questions and Writing Supplement on the My Colleges section (CA) or the Cornell Supplement (UCA), which is required of all applicants (includes important Cornell-specific information and required essays)
- official copies of college and high school transcripts
- required Mid-Term Report

How to Submit the Application
Submit the Transfer Common Application and Cornell University Questions and Writing Supplement online at commonapp.org or the Universal College Application and Supplement at universalcollegesapp.com. The Mid-Term Report may be faxed or emailed as outlined in the instructions on the form. The Final Report (which includes your high school transcript) must be printed and mailed. All mailed materials (transcripts, Mid-Term Report, etc.) must be sent to the Application Processing Center. Please include your name, home address, and date of birth on all attached sheets.

Do NOT send duplicate copies of materials through the mail or online unless you are specifically asked to do so by the admissions office.

We encourage you to view the personal parts of the application, and in particular the Personal Statement, as opportunities to think about yourself and reflect on what is important to you. Give careful thought to the questions that are asked, but don’t try to write the answers you think we want to hear. Give us answers that tell us about you.

Your application must be submitted online by October 15 for spring 2018 transfer admission, or by March 15 for fall 2018 transfer admission.

Application Fee/Fee Waiver
Cornell’s application fee is $80, and you are required to submit it with your transfer application. Please note that Cornell cannot process your application without the application fee or fee waiver. You can apply for an application fee waiver by submitting the NACAC Fee Waiver Form or a letter from a transfer advisor or representative of a social service/community agency stating that the fee would cause financial hardship.

When submitting your application online, check the fee waiver box on the application and mail your fee waiver request to: Transfer Admissions, Cornell University, Application Processing Center, East Hill Plaza, 349 Pine Tree Road, Ithaca, NY 14850-2899.

Cornell University Supplemental Information
The required Cornell University Questions and Writing Supplement on the My Colleges tab (CA) or the Cornell Supplement (UCA) provides us with essential information about your academic interests. The admissions staff at Cornell carefully reads and evaluates your response to the academic interest essay. The information you provide helps us determine how good a match exists between your intellectual goals and the Cornell college or school to which you are applying. You may submit this information with your transfer application or separately.

Important Email Instructions
It is important that you provide us with a legible, current email address that you check frequently. Email is our primary tool for communicating with you to request missing application materials, verify information, give you special instructions, etc. Please carefully type or print your email address on the application form, being certain that characters are understood (for example, using Ø for zero and noting the difference between a lower case l, the number 1, and the letter l).

Please also be sure to include cornell.edu in your address book and/or remove any spam blockers that might prevent our email from reaching you.
Admission Interviews
For applicants to the architecture program in the College of Architecture, Art, and Planning, a formal interview is required for admission. Applicants to the Department of Art in the College of Architecture, Art, and Planning are strongly encouraged (though not required) to have an interview. The Cornell SC Johnson College of Business - School of Hotel Administration offers an optional interview on-campus or off-campus.

- For architecture or fine arts applicants interview request forms can be found at aap.cornell.edu/undergraduate-admissions-architecture or aap.cornell.edu/undergraduate-admissions-art
- Cornell SC Johnson College of Business - School of Hotel Administration: Optional interviews offered. Details at sha.cornell.edu/admissions-programs/undergraduate/how-to-apply/interview

Formal interviews are not required, nor offered as part of the admissions process for any other undergraduate programs.

If you desire to send additional instructor recommendations, you may download and print the forms at commonapp.org or universalcollegeapp.com. Be sure to remind individuals writing recommendations for you to include your full name and date of birth on every page.

College Report
The College Report is a required part of the Cornell transfer application. A registrar, college faculty/advisor, or other college official who has access to your academic and disciplinary records must complete this report. The official should complete the form to the best of his or her ability. The section of the form regarding academic standing and disciplinary record is required.

Mid-Term Report
The required Mid-Term Report is completed by instructors in whose courses you are enrolled at the time of your application. If midterm grades are not available to submit with your application, the Mid-Term Report should be submitted as soon as possible after grades are available.

International Applicants
International applicants must complete and submit all required application documents and components. See the application checklist and the college-specific requirements detailed in the front of this booklet. In addition, international applicants may need to submit scores from the TOEFL or IELTS exam. International students should visit the Cornell Financial Aid website (finaid.cornell.edu) for instructions on applying for financial aid.

- Be sure to submit all items on the application checklist
Cornell has a need-blind admissions policy, which means that we review your admissions application without considering whether you’ve applied for aid; Cornell awards all financial aid on the basis of demonstrated financial need. We encourage you to learn more about our aid initiatives, policies, or even complete our Financial Aid Calculator at finaid.cornell.edu.

U.S. Citizens, Permanent Residents, DACA, Asylees, and Refugees:

U.S. citizens, U.S. permanent residents, and applicants who have been granted DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrival), refugee, or asylee status are eligible to apply for financial assistance and should follow the instructions on the following webpage to apply for financial assistance: finaid.cornell.edu/apply-aid/prospective-applicants.

Note that if you are applying for aid as a U.S. permanent resident, or have been granted DACA, refugee, or asylee status, you will be required to document your permanent residency or DACA/refugee/asylee status. To be considered for aid, you must be able to document your status by November 1 for spring transfers and by July 1 for fall transfers. Please see our website for the required forms of documentation.

Financial Aid Deadlines and Timeline:

If you are offered admission and have met our aid application deadlines, you will receive an aid notification. Failure to meet our deadlines will result in limited financial aid eligibility.
